Dedication

TO LIVE IN HEARTS THEY LEAVE BEHIND IS NOT TO DIE.

DR. EDITH L. HURD, JUNE, 1948

For twelve years a teacher of English at Somerville High School, Dr. Hurd was a graduate of Radcliffe College, Portia Law School, and received the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence from Yale University.

A practicing attorney and a leader in civic and professional affairs, she served on the School Committee from 1932 to 1941, being chairman in 1937. In 1943 she was elected to the Board of Aldermen and was still a member, highly regarded as "a gracious and distinguished lady of great gentleness."

MISS NETTIE V. EASTMAN, SEPTEMBER, 1948

Teacher of chemistry at Somerville High School for twenty-three years, Miss Eastman was a graduate of Simmons College. "Quietly, she went about appointed tasks; no fret, complaints or criticism, a high standard set—to teach her subject well."

MISS MARGARET A. BROWN, FEBRUARY, 1949

"Closed life's debit side. Bright Heaven's ledger opens wide to greet her name. Our loss, its gain. Farewell." Head of the Commercial Course for five short months, Miss Brown endeared herself to students and faculty alike. A graduate of Boston University with a Master's degree, she became a teacher at our school in 1934. After a brief illness, she passed away, leaving a heritage of cheerful friendliness and quiet efficiency as an example to those who knew her.

MR. FRANCIS J. MAHONEY, MARCH, 1949

The Director of the Somerville Recreation Commission, Mr. Mahoney was a teacher of history at Somerville High School from 1924 to 1930. He was a graduate of Boston College with the class of 1916. We shall always remember him as a man of vigor and energetic earnestness.

Yearbook Staff

Turning out a yearbook isn't as simple as turning out a monthly magazine, as we discovered while producing the 1949 annual. Whoever termed it a "book" fitted the appropriate title to this heavily worded tome. Then, too, we have reputation to live up to. The 1949 Yearbook received a first class rating at the National Competition at Columbia.

Our adviser, Miss Olive MacPherson, wisely guided the staff in the preparation of the Yearbook. There were a great many things to do; design a cover, select a layout of material, sort all the data cards and pictures, write up the organizations, and finally, arrange the huge pile of material for the printer.

Much credit for efficient leadership and organization goes to John Forte, our editor. The praiseworthy efforts of Robert Dini, the business manager, kept affairs in general running smoothly.

The energetic work of the willing and enthusiastic staff resulted in an easily read, well-balanced yearbook. We hope it pleases the Seniors, for they are the final judges of its worth.

Editorial

Dear Classmates,

"Well, if we must, we must—and in that case the less said the better," aptly expresses the experience of graduation. Our sojourn on the hill is ended, and as a fitting climax to those wonderful years, here is your personal high school record — the 1949 yearbook.

We know that in order to record properly the many high school events, this yearbook is inadequate, but within our limited scope we have tried to embody in its pages as many as possible of the activities and accomplishments of the Class of 1949.

Work was started as early as last June and many new ideas were presented, discussed, and rejected or promoted, always having in mind to make the 1949 yearbook the best yearbook. Ideas such as bigger senior pictures, larger pages, autographs, group informality, modernistic designs, reverse drawings, and simplicity were made possible by the untiring efforts of your staff. Their work will be amply rewarded in seeing your pleased expression as you look through the pages of this, your 1949 annual.

On the night of graduation we are expectant in anticipation of the future which extends before us with bright hopes and promises. The first goal we have been striving for has finally been achieved, yet, in our joy, there is almost regret that this moment also means the ending of many associations and friendships. But these have helped to build and mould our character and are already a part of our life that can never be forgotten.

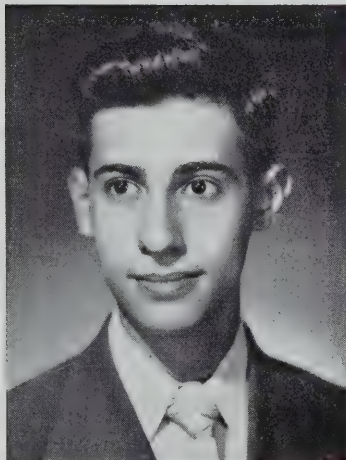

Thus, as we attain our goals in life let us not allow our memory of these important days to become dim. We trust that these pages will do their part to keep shining brightly the happy days at S. H. S.

Some of us have given generously and unstintingly of all our time and effort. Others have not. We should remember that happy days are recollected in the measure of what we have put into them. The more we put into life, the more we shall receive from it.

So now — graduation, and on to greater achievements. We close the door on our high school world and turning, we find open another door — to a shining future.

Sincerely,

JOHN FORTE

Senior Class History

in September, 1946, the Class of 1949 first walked through the doors of Somerville High. As sophomores we were baffled as to the whereabouts of our classrooms and, of course, the location of that ever popular elevator. After a few weeks, however, we were less gullible and became accustomed to such sayings as "to get to the girls' gym, you go down to the basement and through the boys' gym."

We quickly acquainted ourselves with the many organizations and were soon dividing our talents in all activities.

Class elections were held in December and Louis DeSimone, Barbara Smith, Dorothy Miller, and Louis Pacini were elected to our Executive Committee.

In early March, the Herald Spelling Bee took place. Elinor Tye won this contest.

■ ■ ■ ■

As Juniors, with a year of experience behind us, we renewed our acquaintances and once again continued our participation in the various organizations. The boys were prominent in the field of sports and everyone enjoyed the school's social activities.

We were well represented in such extra-curricula organizations as Glee Clubs, Portia, and Players' Club. A few juniors helped to present the "Song of Bernadette" and make it a success.

Class officers for the junior year were Louis DeSimone, president; Barbara Smith, vice-president; Elsie Constantine, secretary; and Louis Pacini, treasurer.

In April we held our Junior Prom. The gym was beautifully decorated with purple and white umbrellas representing April Showers. Much of the credit should be given to the Chairman of the Committee, Donald Gifford, and his assistants, Catherine Breen, Robert Dini, Marilyn Parkinson, and Guy Brigida.

Gerald Nardone received the Harvard Book Prize.

■ ■ ■ ■

As seniors we looked forward to our last wonderful year at S. H. S. — a year full of excitement and experiences which will always be cherished by all of us.

During this year we enjoyed a remarkably successful year of sports. Our basketball team came up from behind to smash through the Tech Tourney and win the New England Tourney. Our Track Team also showed what Somerville could do by competing with all Boston High Schools and winning the Donald Enoch Trophy.

While the regular coaches of basketball, hockey, and baseball were continuing with their previous year's successes by adding more trophies, our new coaches of football and track fell into line with fine teams.

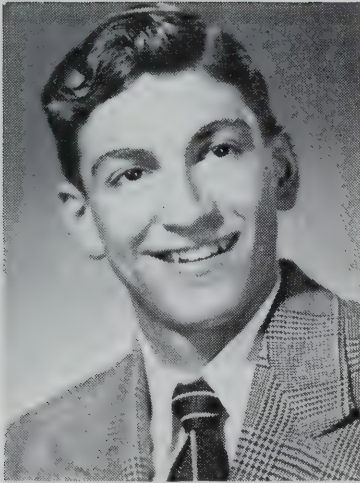

The gym was beautifully decorated in Oriental design that night in May when we held our memorable Senior Prom. Our Senior Night Committee was led by Chairman Guy Brigida and his assistants Mary Lou Ahearn, Marilyn Parkinson, John Forte, and Arthur Rhuda.

Our Class officers were President, Robert Dini; Vice President, Catherine Breen; Secretary, Elsie Constantine; and Treasurer, Louis Pacini.

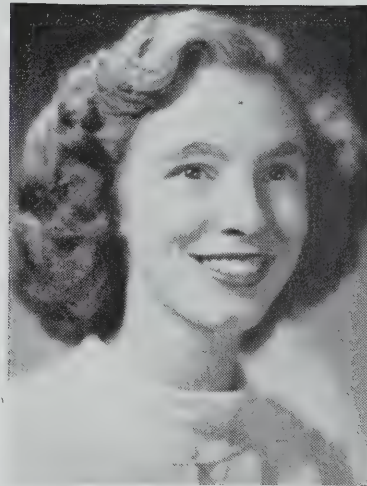

Class Day was held on June third and through the committee of Ronald Noonan, Donald Gifford, Marilyn Bellini, Barbara Smith, and Norman Mack, we enjoyed our last day at S. H. S. very much.

To speak of one organization would mean including every one as they were excellently and expertly led by the Class of 1949. It is the usual aim of every class to make theirs the best ever. Well, the Fortyniners have surpassed all others in winning trophies, prizes, awards, and achievements in sports, organizations, and scholarship!

Class Day Committee

According to tradition, on Class Day at nine o'clock the seniors and their guests assemble in Clayton Ellis Hall to hear the Valedictorian and Salutatorian give their addresses, to hear the Class Poem, to present the class gift to the school, and to sing the class ode. Outside on the campus, the ivy is planted and the class colors are presented to the incoming class. After the formal program of Class Day, seniors spend their time autographing the books, taking pictures of their friends, all the while trying to suppress the sort of lonely feeling that comes with good-bye to school days.

Senior Night Committee

Our Prom! 'Midst the exotic splendor of an oriental garden dreamy-eyed girls and their charming escorts gracefully dance to heavenly music. Ushers take each couple through the receiving line of invited guests, in accordance with the best grown-up taste. The little girl next door has blossomed into a dream 'girl and the boy around the corner seems at least an inch taller!

The Prom King and Queen lead the grand march, a colorful climax to a night long to be remembered.

Class Ode

Lillian Landry, '49

Oh, Alma Mater dear,
We bid thee sad adieu.
As we depart forever,
We fondly think of you.
The countless things you've taught us
And helped us understand
Our hearts shall ne'er forget.
'Twas 'neath thy guiding hand
We learned to face with courage
The waiting world beyond.
Your motto, "Honor and Progress"
Will linger with us long.

The music was written by Carol Johnson, '49

Class Poem

Virginia Rood, '49

To thee, oh Alma Mater, we sing our sad farewell,
As we depart forever, no more to hear your bell.
We dream of all the joyous hours we've spent within your walls,
Where many laughing voices echoed through your halls.
We will always think of happy times we had when we were here,
And then regret, as we do now, the ending of the year.

When graduation comes for us and caps and gowns are donned,
You'll help us to appreciate the waiting world beyond.
Like shadows cast by sunshine upon some ancient dial,
Your spirit will fall on us to make our lives worthwhile.
And so we want to tell you now, as on our way we start,
You'll always hold a tender place in each and every heart.

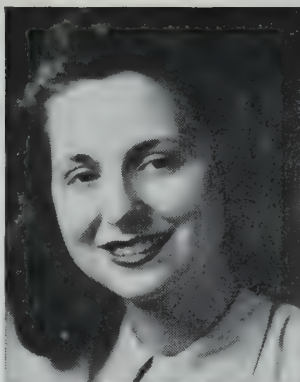

Note: The Class Ode and the Class Poem are selected by a committee of teachers in the English Department.

Class Will

We the members of the Class of '49, being of sound mind and body, hereby proclaim this to be our last will and testament.

Having spent three happy (that's what they keep telling us) years hooking periods, sleeping through classes, and flunking exams we are now prepared to meet the responsibilities of life. In order that we may not soon be forgotten we bequeath the following:—

To Mr. Foley's English classes we leave a supply of "Classic Comics" for that book report every two weeks.

To the incoming Sophs, we bequeath the plush elevators to the fabulous fifth floor.

We leave the gym's folding bleachers to Mr. Buckley's loving care. Here's hoping he doesn't fold anyone up in them.

To Mr. Curtin we leave a red scooter, a shiny phone attached to a private line, and a little black book to keep the phone numbers of the poor unsuspecting sophs.

To everyone who roams peacefully through the corridors of S. H. S. we leave a football helmet and a complete suit of armor as protection against those "swinging doors."

To the whole school we leave a Swiss yodeler to announce Mr. Morrissey's arrival. We also are going to supply him with enough car checks so that those pupils who are sent home for "proper attire" will not have to use their own.

We advise the Traffic Squad to start saving their box tops so that next year they'll have enough to get some Dick Tracy mighty midget wrist watch radios. Just think how convenient it will be for the officers in the East and West buildings.

To our local faculty chapter of the Benevolent and Protective Order of "Gilded Domes" we leave the John Warner treatment. Guaranteed to grow hair on a billiard ball.

To the basketball fans we leave 10 tons of paper, 100 fire sirens and 150 pairs of scissors; they can begin preparing now for the Tech Tourney. For your standard sports musicians we leave those sweet serenaders the "Cavaliers and Greek" bands.

To Mr. Cahalan we leave a carton of "Pom Poms" so the poor starving seniors will not have to forfeit theirs.

To Mr. Berra we leave a pair of stilts so he can look down on his pupils.

We leave a 5 point program for the improvement of the cafeteria:

Jumbo television screen

Serve pizza

Install a soda fountain

Put comfortable red leather cushions on all the seats

Lengthen the lunch period.

We leave a year's assortment of contests to Miss Hall: oratory, essay, city planning, treasure top, and what's my name.

To the Juniors we leave all the hard worked jokes about the chemistry labs, and the Senior Building, hallowed by our presence.

For those who come to school by bus we are providing a first aid kit that they may survive their morning ordeal.

To Mr. Obear we leave a fore and aft hat, magnifying glass, and pipe so he can track down his missing books.

We are sending a copy of coach Zammarchi's book "How to play football and survive" to Medford High.

To Vin Cronin we leave a basketball team, bigger and better than this year's (if that's possible.)

To "Bob" Buckley we leave the athletic teams and a barrel of horseshoes and rabbits' feet.

To the sophs we leave the City Hall's twelve o'clock whistle that blows just in time to wake you up for lunch.

To the pupils we leave Somerville High's version of the countries behind the "Iron Curtain" — the superintendent's office.

We are supplying Mr. Lanigan with a cowbell so he will know the whereabouts of his herd of Seniors.

To the Sophs we leave a new course on "How to get to the Lunchroom Firstest and get the Mostest."

To the whole school we leave the screeching, ear-bursting records that serenade you during lunch.

To the pupils in the East building we leave clothespins to keep out those strange odors that float upstairs from the cooking classes.

To the whole school we are glad to announce that the assembly hall has been improved; cushions and pillows on all the seats.

We are leaving next year's cheerleaders a supply of vitamin pills and liniment. (They'll need it.)

To the teachers and pupils with automobiles we leave the driveway outside the school. May the most agile students come out alive.

To sleepy pupils we leave the limitless blue and the gentle strains of "Far Away Places."

To the pupils we leave the telephone booth outside the office complete with a teacher standing guard to see that it remains "Untouched by pupils' hands."

To next year's seniors we leave the Employment Agencies and the "help wanted ads."

We are appointing a member of each of the various athletic teams for Miss Nugent's future homerooms.

To Mrs. McDonnell we leave some x-ray eyes so she will be able to tell if there is anybody in rooms which she locks.

To the school we leave the water fountains. When you want a drink either they are broken or someone bellows "No drinks."

To the Seniors we leave the corridors and the privilege of trampling any stray T. S.'s they find.

To Dr. O'Loughlin we leave an automatic rejection sign, for the future censorship of class wills.

This bequest we're sorry to say can't be fulfilled. We wish we could leave the future seniors enough money to graduate, but we're pumped dry.

For those who have homerooms in the basement we leave plenty of mouse traps for big game hunting.

Therefore, we, the Class of 1949, having expended some of our hot air and having graced the school with our presence for three memorable years do hereby take our leave with one last boast—

S. H. S. will now have to wait another century before it sees a class like ours. (Lucky, huh?)

CAUGHT: AN ARDENT ANGLER

Rachel Dustin, '49

Cautiously, carefully, the little boy creeps.
Around every corner and building he peeps;
His step is so wary; his face so intense,
His heart beats so quickly, till he reaches the fence.
In one leap he's over; now it's not far to go.
He skips and then runs; no more is he slow.
Ahead lies the brook; how he grins at the sight;
Then out comes the string and the pin, bent just right.
He drops on the ground; then eagerly he casts;
His first fish, he hopes, will come good and fast.
Then up strides the man he bitterly hates,
Saying, "Come, little fisherman — school awaits!"

BONFIRE

Ruth Jamieson, '49

We sat upon the rocks tonight,
To watch the bonfire on the shore.
The flames were reaching high and bright,
Consuming logs with such a roar,
And casting shadows quick and sly
Across the cold and stony beach.
The glowing sparks fall free and die,
And soon the flames no longer reach,
As if the heavens are their goals,
And our fire is but a spark,
With only slowly cooling coals,
Its bleak and lonely site to mark.

AUTUMN LEAVES

Prudence DiCiaccio, '49

Autumn has such lovely leaves
Whirling, swirling in the breeze;
Crimson, scarlet, golden-brown,
Each a jewel for her crown.

HAPPY YOUTH (?)

Jessie Bauer, '49

I staggered homeward with my books,
They rose up to my chin;
My mind was full of fantasies,
But homework must begin.

There was a test in Algebra,
A quiz in Chemistry;
They tell us school is lots of fun,
But that I cannot see.

You worry over books and boys,
And what about the Prom?
The thought that youth is happiest,—
Just where does it come from?

NIGHT WIND

Paul Murphy, '49

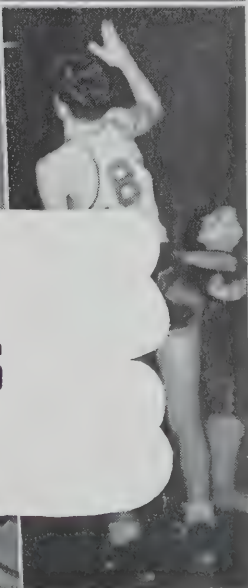

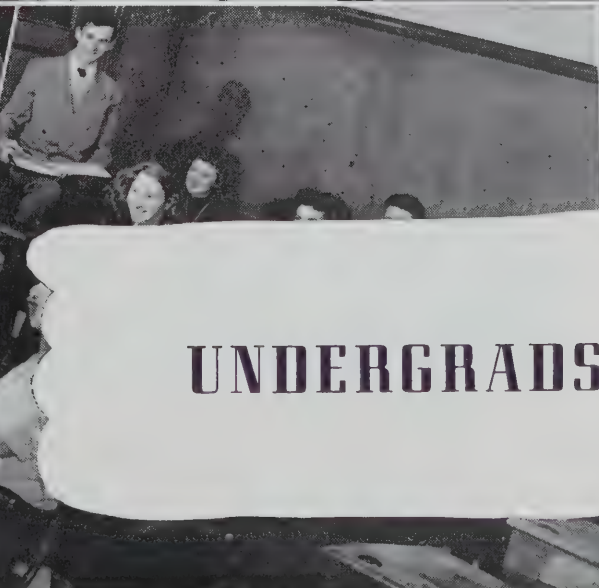

The night wind is a quiet thing
Creeping along the hall.
The night wind is a wild thing,
Beating against the wall.
The night wind is a secret thing
Whispering to the trees.
The night wind is a vagrant thing,
Orphaned by every breeze.
The night wind is a homeless thing
Crying through valleys of loneliness.
The night wind is a terrible thing
Doomed to caverns of endlessness.

YOUR PURPOSE

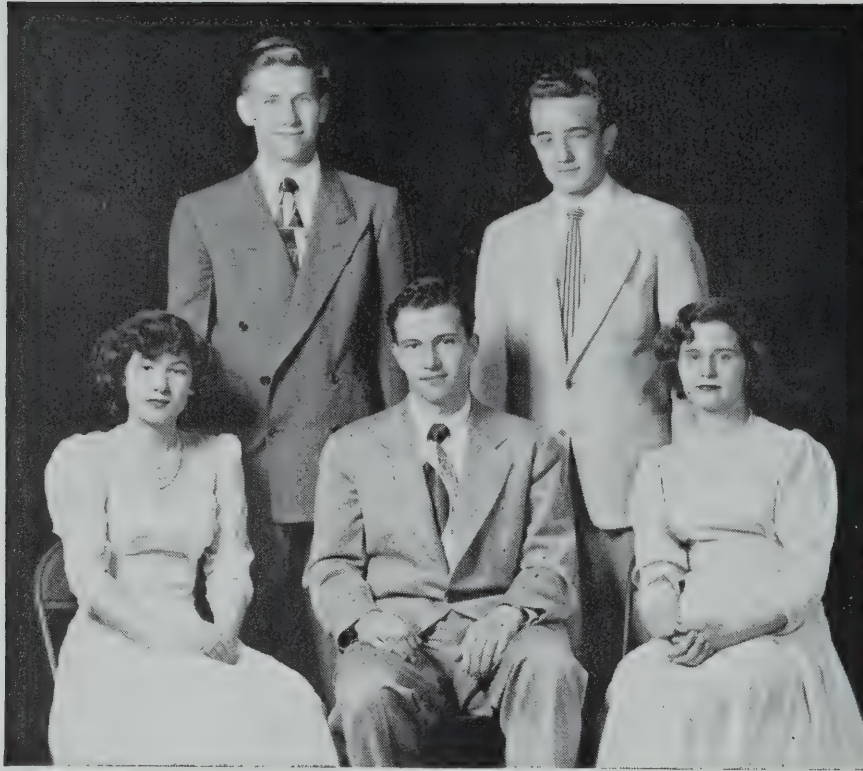

Arlene Perry, '49

When e'er you tread life's road of pain
And think to go on would be in vain,
Look back through the years at the pleasant hours,
That nod at you like golden flowers.
Look back at moments full to the brim
Of joy and laughter and grief grown dim.
Think not of pain and sadness to come.
Do not shirk your duties, no, nor run.
But turn and face the coming day
With a heart that's light, and a smile that's gay!

For God will reward you for your strife,
When you have ended your earthly life.
If you have lived and loved your share,
Then come and mount the golden stair;
But if you have sinned and sorrowed so,
Then turn and descend to your fate below.
For He puts you here and returns to wait
Till you decide your eternal fate.
So you see, you must live with a worldly endeavor,
For your purpose is life; in His world forever!

Junior Class History

We are the half-century class! We are proud that, as Juniors, so many of us have high scholarship and at the same time, participate in school activities.

In such school organizations as Players' Club, were Phyllis Marinakis, Joan Wright, Barry Noonan, and Charles Westcott. We were well represented in Webster, Portia, Symphony Guild and Student Council. Jeanne Dionne, Marilyn Floherty, and Amy Brown were outstanding in the Girls' Athletic Association. The Glee Clubs boasted such members as: Dorothy Andrade, Esther McEvoy, Jean Coolidge, Earl Marryat, Robert Ellison, and Raymond Davis, who entertained us in the musical reviews this year.

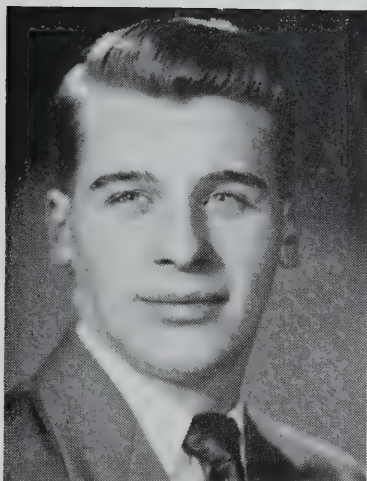

Micky Mavropoulos, Bob Hickey, Robert Joyce, Roy Peterson, and John Nunziato aided the football team in one of its finest seasons. On the track team were Raymond Devaux and Fred Strout, and outstanding in hockey were Bob Hickey and Bill Pearson. Ronnie Perry, Roy Peterson and John Nunziato played on the championship basketball team. Ronald Perry was the recipient of the first Henry P. McCarthy Trophy for his performance in the Tech Tourney, and was also judged the outstanding player in the New England Tourney.

After being chosen next year's editor, Joan Wright represented the Radiator at Columbia University. Our spelling champ was Ruth Alabaschi. Albert Giroux was a representative on Good Government Day.

The Junior Night Committee of Dorothy Chrysakis, Mary Macera, Vincent Miele, Robert Joyce and Charles Westcott, Chairman, deserve a great deal of credit for making our first high school event such a success. They cleverly used our class colors, blue and white, in a nautical theme for our Junior Prom.

In our Sophomore year, our executive committee comprised Frances Rosselli, Eleanor Dobson, Charles Westcott and Albert Giroux. This year our class was led by President Ronald Perry; Vice-President Frances Rosselli; Secretary Antonette Ferrante; and Treasurer Albert Giroux.

CLASS DAY, 1948

Fred Talbot, Patricia Winn, John Russell, Claire Pirani, Walter Genoni and Ida Brigida receive the class colors, the Red and White, from the class of '48.

Sophomore Class History

On September ninth, the class of 1951 entered Somerville High. It took us quite a while to get acquainted with pupils from other schools and with the school itself but we accustomed ourselves to new friends and surroundings.

We are proud of our class members who participated in the many school activities. Dorothy Douglas has done a fine job guarding on the girls' basketball team and Jean Lockhart has been a marvelous forward.

For musical talent we have Betty Hughey and Joe McPherson. There is also a Sophomore Girls' Glee Club, which is on the road to featured success. The officers are Mary Karageorges, president; Ruth Henning, vice-president; Edna Dillon, secretary; and Betty Hughey, treasurer.

We have ten of our class in the Portia Debating Society. A few outstanding ones are Claire Pirani, Anita DiNetto, and Eunice Calesa. In February, Portia held a dance, "Fiesta". Joan Daley was chosen Miss Portia and Joan Baldwin one of her court.

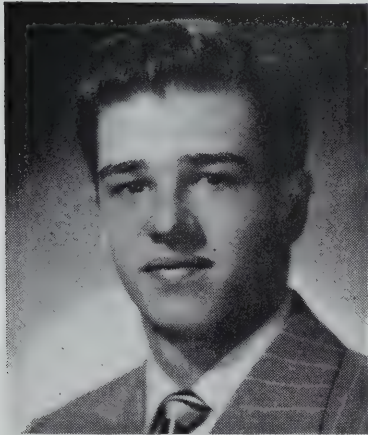

During the Drama Festival several sophomores, members of the Players' Club, worked hard in entertaining guests from other schools.

Standard bearers of our class colors, red and white, in the sports field were Allen Dickerman on the Track Team, Fred Talbot on the hockey and baseball teams, and Louis Zambello, John Heneghan, and Gilbert Rice in basketball.

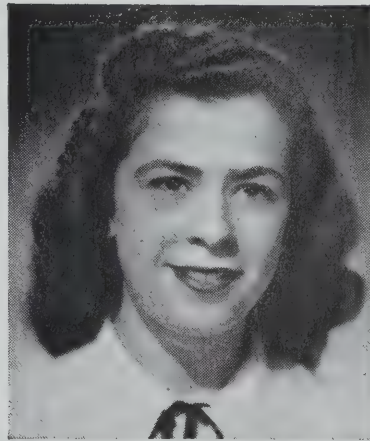

Mary Hayes was the winner of the annual Spelling Bee.

In February, the class elected as their Executive Committee Ida Brigida, Mary Karageorges, Anthony Nasson, and William Walsh.

Poetry

GOD'S WILL

Anthony DiSarcina, '49

Now it is fall, and the trees
Disconsolately lose their leaves.
Just one, so tall and strong, needs not,
For during the summer
Never had a leaf been born.
What wrong had it done?

THE SEA CAPTAIN

Rachel Dustin, '49

One day along the water-front,
I paused, and saw him there,
A stooped, old man with flowing beard,
And crowned with silver hair.

His face with wrinkles deep was lined,
His eyes an azure blue,
He gazed across the ocean span,
His sailing days were through.

And as he sat, he dreamed of days
When he was young and brave;
When high adventure sailed the seas;
A life of wind and wave.

TO A CHILD

Carol Johnson, '49

Speak gently to the little child,
So guileless and so free,
Who, with a trustful, loving heart,
Puts confidence in thee.
Speak not the cold and careless words
Which time has taught thee well,
Nor breathe one thought whose saddened tone
Despair might seem to tell.

SUNDOWN

Barbara Tholander, '49

The sun slowly drifted across the sky,
And as I looked up, it caught my eye.
Red, orange, and yellow, the colors I saw,
Had indeed, without doubt, filled me with awe.
Each ray shone as bright as a golden tear,
But soon they began to disappear,
And the darkness gripped me with lonely fear—
For the sun has gone and here I stand,
Where sunshine once covered this wonderful land.

A BUTTERFLY

Frances Capotosta, '49

A great big butterfly was perched
Upon a pretty rose
Whose petals soft and sweet it searched
Until at last it chose
To spread its velvet wings, and fly
And rest upon a leaf.
"How free this creature is," thought I,
"From worry and from grief!"

THE WIND

Arlene Perry, '49

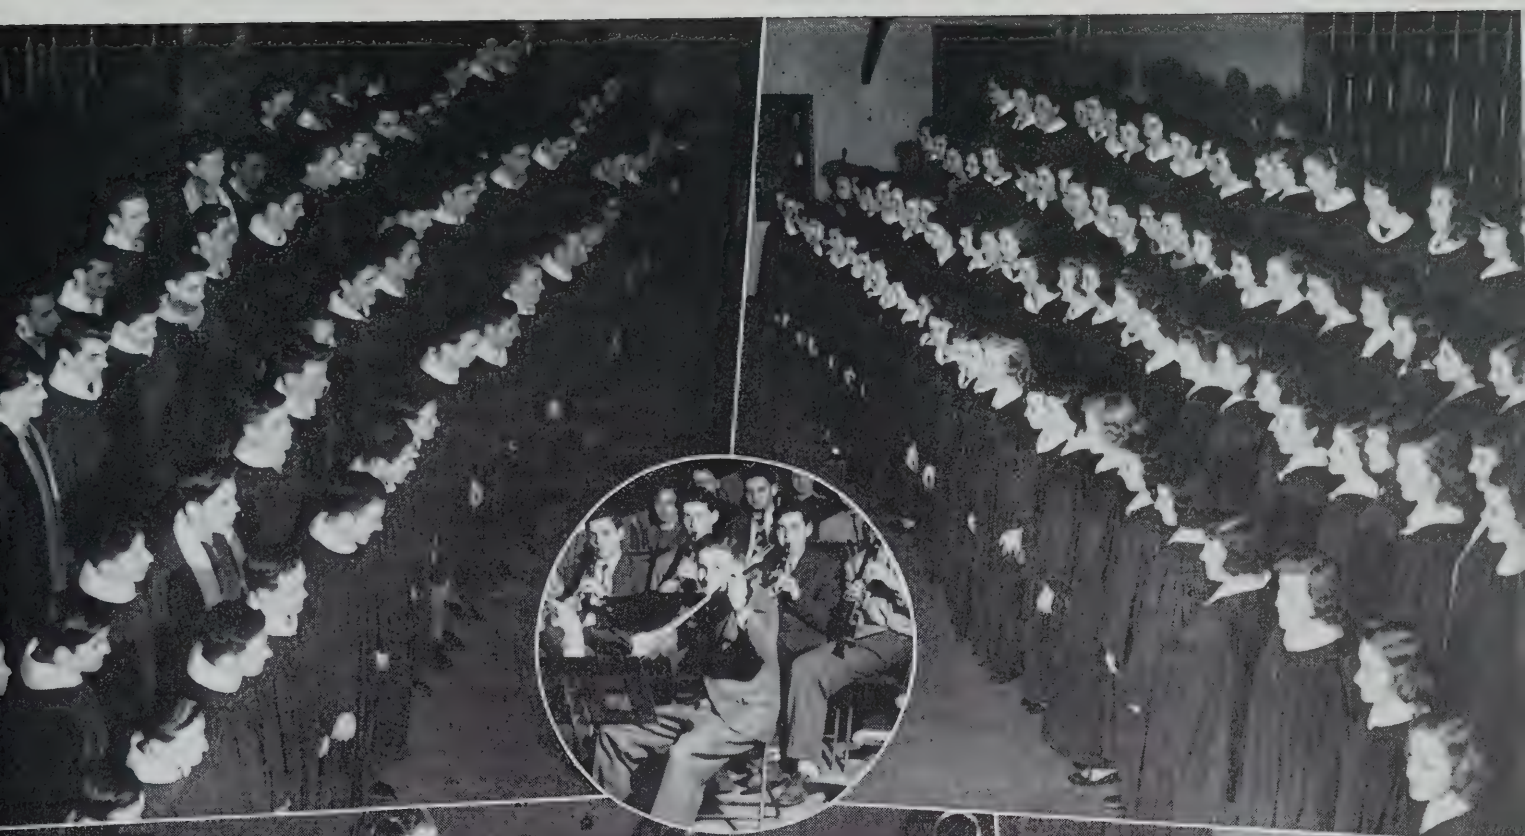

I stand on a lonely hill and watch
The wind
Come sweeping o'er the countryside.
It shakes the slender goldenrod
And bends them to the earth
Like a throng of pagan worshippers
Bowing before a god.

It skims the surface of the lake
Marring the calm reflection,
And sends small ripples
Back to whence they came.
It blows through the trees
With a frenzied haste
Leaving them quivering with an indignant
Shame
Because they were not stronger.

It rushes through the farmyard
Scattering the leaves and waste.
It drops a cinder in the farmer's eye.
It beats upon the barn door
And shrieks in angry protest
At the stolid creatures within.

Then it slows its pace to a delicate breeze
That caresses the wild flowers
Hidden in the crannies of a rock.
And murmurs softly to a child playing
In the meadow.

With a vast and mighty roar
It ascends the hill where I stand;
With a burst of unrelenting speed
It rushes past. Then, leaving me breathless,
It descends the hill with a sigh
And continues on . . .

 2—Dr. O'Loughlin, Miriam Hale, Mary Fantasia, Lois Graham, Dorothy Vining, Mary Lou Ahearn, Winifred Crowley, Elinor Tye, Prudence DiCiaccio, Arlene Perry.
 3—Louis Pacini, Harrison Pearlson, John Forte, John Foppiano, Edmund Passmore, Fred Davis, Ronald Noonan, Peter Ghiloni.

National Honor Society

The Somerville High School Chapter of the National Honor Society has completed another successful year, upholding the ideals and principles on which the organization was founded in 1927. Since then the Society has inducted into membership from the top third scholastically, fifteen per cent of the Senior Class and five per cent of the Junior Class. This year, under the direction of Dr. O'Loughlin, they have extended the Service and Leadership of the Society to the school, through special activities.

Officers for the first semester were Gerald Nardone, President; Marilyn Bellini, Vice-President; Antoinette Buonopane, Secretary; Costa Chitouras, Treasurer; Barbara Smith, Student Council Representative.

Pledge

"I will be a loyal member of the National Honor Society in Somerville High School; steadfast in my purpose to abide by the right, to serve all just causes, and to seek the truth with my whole heart.

I would prize scholarship as a sacred trust, and a noble character as my most valuable possession.

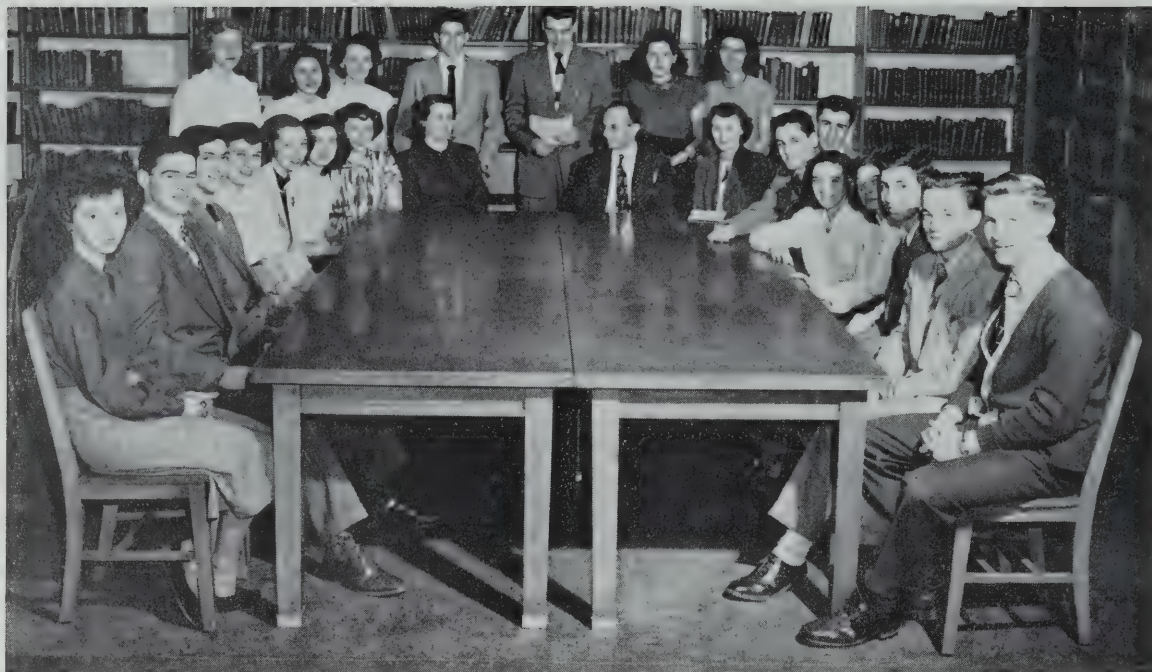

Beneath the banner of Honor and Progress, I would loyally serve."

National Honor Society

- 4—Guy Brigida, Joseph Sica, Donald Curran, John Luciano, George Ellison, Charles Roden, Arthur Rhuda, Clarence Grover, Ralph LaPadula, Earl Whitman, Norman Burns.

Standing—Carol Johnson, Prudence DiCiaccio, Margaret Jackson, Louis Pacini, Ronald Perry, Frances Rosselli, Antonette Ferrante.

Student Council

One of the most active organizations in the school, the Council performed well the duty of taking the initiative in conducting and supporting activities. Under the direction of Miss Rice and Mr. Adams, the Red Feather, Tuberculosis, and March of Dimes Campaigns were conducted. Representatives went to the Student Council conventions, and participated in tours of the hospitals.

In April, President Ronald Perry was elected President of the Eastern Massachusetts Division of Student Councils. Other officers were Louis Pacini, 1st Vice-President; Frances Rosselli, 2nd Vice-President, Barbara Smith, Secretary, and John Forte, Treasurer.

H O N O R A N D P R O G R E S S

On Friday, January 14, our high school, under the direction of the Student Council and Traffic Squad, conducted its "Good Government Day" primary elections. District membership registers were made up and the elections were held in the same manner as city elections.

Final elections were held on January 25 and our candidates were matched with other Somerville and Cambridge schools. On April 8, the chosen pupils went to the State House, prepared to speak and vote on a series of bills which were presented to them.

"Good Government Day" will always be remembered by these S. H. S. students, as the day THEY were Congressmen, solving problems and meeting situations which are continually confronting the political figures of our state.

Good Government Day

Seated: Joan Beals, Winifred Crowley, Gerald Nardone, John Fitzgerald, Louis DeSimone, Albert Grioux, Marilyn Bellini, Salvatore Fidaleo, Frederick O'Reilly
Standing: Robert Dini, Audrey LaPadula, Mary Macera, Dorothy Chrysakis, William Tevlin.

1—David Harvey, Paul DuBois, Joseph Giunta, Ernest Hodgkins, Joseph DeBay, Howard Emerson, Gerald McDonnell, Frank Ray, Robert Rowell, Carl Caruso, Arnold Theis.
 2—Patrick Scheri, William Pitts, Fred Biederman, John Provenzano, Carl Torossian, Andrew Filoso, Nicholas DiMille, Arthur Giangrande, Frank DeFelice, Francis Armstrong, Donald Sauve, Philip Theodore, Mrs. McDonnell.
 3—Thomas Lopez, William Pearson, Fred O'Reilly, Robert O'Leary, William Antoine, George Willis, Alfred Pisani, Earl Harvey, Arthur Vancini, Richard Moulthrop, Gunner Moore, Donald Carriger, Edward Mathews.

Traffic Squad

A vital factor in the maintaining of order in the corridors, the Squad again this year did their work in a highly satisfactory manner. Under Mrs. McDonnell's efficient organization and with the help of the whole school, the boys managed the filing between periods. Gerald McDonnell was chief; Ferd O'Reilly, assistant chief, and Howard Emerson, Joseph DeBay, and Ernest Hodgkins, Commanders.

H O N O R A N D P R O G R E S S

Performing their varied duties, the proctors conducted drives and directed homeroom activities. Selected at the beginning of the year, these representatives are the main link between the office and the students. Two boys and two girls from each class were elected by the group to represent them in the Student Council. Seniors were Carol Johnson, Dorothy Thompson, John Luciano and Louis DeSimone.

Proctors

Standing—Louis DeSimone, Francis Splaine, John Luciano.

Radiator Staff

In the small editorial room the compact but efficient staff turned out the familiar magazine all year under the capable leadership of its editor, John Forte. With their usual cry of "any stories, poems, essays, or editorials", the embryo journalists descended upon the school every month to reap a harvest of material for each issue.

In charge of the money, Robert Dini and Anthony DiSarcina, the business managers, and Mr. Nathaniel Colbert, Business Adviser, deserve the credit for keeping the Radiator in publication this past season.

Ably advising the staff, Miss Olive MacPherson gave criticism and encouragement where they counted most. Her praiseworthy efforts were a great factor in the Radiator's success.

The juniors did a fine job in putting out the February issue alone, giving a preview of their abilities next year. In May the sophomores came to bat and published their first issue, while the seniors gracefully bowed out.

HONOR AND PROGRESS

The somewhat controversial, but always popular Class Chatter section of the monthly Radiator existed only through the ceaseless efforts of some seventy-five Radiator reporters. While the Radiator kept the students in touch with the school, the reporters kept the Radiator in touch with the students.

While it was impossible to print much of the news of each room, the more novel and amusing incidents quickly found their way into the pages of the magazine. The reporters' good sportsmanship in accepting drastic cuts in their chatter was a great help to the staff.

By helping to entertain their classmates and doing a real service for the school, the reporters gained valuable experience for themselves.

Camera Club

Under the guidance of Mr. DeAngelis, the Camera Club had a very busy and interesting season. Throughout the year, the members submitted entries to the National High School Photography Contest and visited the Herald-Traveler Building, Purdy's, Boston Camera Club, and the Boston Y. M. C. U.

The officers were President Frank Montesano, Vice President Vincent Miele, Secretary Jessie Bauer, and Treasurer Mary Wilton.

Engaging in various activities and functions, the Junior Red Cross held many successful drives this year. The Council collected and made up gift boxes for veterans' hospitals, the needy children of this country and the poor people overseas.

Their social event of the year was a splash party at the Y. M. C. A. Miss King was this year's sponsor and the officers were Russell Mulcahy, president, Jessie Bauer, vice president, Barbara Murphy, secretary, and Josephine Solano, Student Council representative.

Portia Debating Society

Under the skillful direction of Mrs. Schroeder, the members of Portia completed the season with their usual success. Throughout the year, they held many debates with other high schools as well as intramural discussions. The annual dance, "Fiesta", was an outstanding success, enjoyed by many students of the school.

Much credit goes to President Alice Burdett; Vice-President Helen Hittenmark; Secretary Nancy Webb; Treasurer Frances Rosselli; Marshall Wanita Bernard, for their efficient leadership.

H O N O R A N D P R O G R E S S

Debating offers an excellent opportunity for boys to develop their abilities in public speaking and logic. Although hampered at the beginning of the season by small membership, the society soon developed into an active group of enthusiastic boys, interested in the problems of today. The members, following the guidance of Mr. Hickey, realized the need for better organization and wrote a useful, far-reaching constitution for the future.

Always preferring a compact group, the society has done much to develop an interest in world affairs by intelligent discussion.

Officers for the first term were William Madden, president; Angelo Camacho, vice-president; Harold Berlak, secretary; Ernest Hodgkins, treasurer. Second term: Harold Berlak, president; Louis Hunt, vice-president; Angelo Camacho, treasurer.

Library Assistants

Volunteering for work, the Library Assistants usually spend their free periods helping to carry out the detailed duties of running the Library. There is no formal organization. Each pupil learns responsibility in desk work, information, filing catalogue cards, preparation for new books, and checking attendance.

Of the twenty-one assistants this year, four are seniors, four are juniors, and thirteen are sophomores.

Under the direction of Miss Viola Jackson, the Players' Club completed one of its busiest, most productive and successful years. Beginning in October with its Hallowe'en Dance, the organization gave in December the annual Scholarship Play, "The Divine Flora," and a Christmas Party. There was an outing at the close of the year. Being host to the State Drama Festival this year, the members worked together as a well co-ordinated unit.

The officers were Harrison Pearlson, President; Helen Sugarman, Vice-President; Anna Battista, Recording Secretary; Jessie Bauer, Corresponding Secretary; Salvatore Fidaleo, Treasurer; Ronald Noonan, Student Council Representative; Barbara Smith, Scholarship Play Chairman.

Girls' Glee Club

Again this year the Girls' Glee Club distinguished itself by its high quality of entertainment. From the beginning of the year President Carol Johnson, Vice-President Josephine Vaudo, Secretary Dorothy Clements, and Treasurer Hazel Zawtsos worked hard to present for the school an outstanding glee club. Under the direction of Miss Sweet and Mr. Kelly, the members received great acclaim for the annual concert presented in February.

H O N O R A N D P R O G R E S S

To the supervision of its director, Miss McGann, the Boys' Glee Club owes much of its success of the past year. With the co-operation of the officers, President Joseph Traveline, Vice-President Louis Pacini, Secretary Gerald Nardone, and Treasurer Franklin Siegal and the other members of the organization, the annual concert and many other performances were outstanding successes. Along with the Girls' Glee Club, the boys contributed to scholarships for the Class of 1949.

Band

Under the leadership of Mr. Clark, the Band had another fine year of music and marching. The list of performances of the band includes the playing at the high school games, their own concert on May 19, the State Contest at Newburyport, and the New England Contest at Old Orchard, and many parades. Outstanding Seniors include Robert Struzziero, Ralph Lapadula, Anthony Fedele, Salvatore Fidaleo, Emo Pascuito, Anthony Silva, and the head drum majorette, Ann Rudolph.

H O N O R A N D P R O G R E S S

Important to the life of the school is the Somerville High Orchestra. These students bring the benefit of entertaining music to many school activities.

With the capable help of Arthur Millos, the student director, the orchestra enjoyed playing together. Regular weekly practice was scheduled and resulted in some performances in the auditorium and at graduation. The orchestra's appearance at any school function is always anticipated with eagerness and enjoyed with satisfaction by the student body.

Symphony Guild

Appreciation of music through listening was the main object of the Guild. Programs made up and presented for the meetings included classical and popular records and a little talent by some of the members. Officers of the club were President Paul DuBois; Vice-President Dorothy Loven; Secretary Judith McCann; and Treasurer Neil MacNevin. The Chairman of the Membership Committee was Joyce Jones, and Arnold Thies held the office of Chairman of the Activities Committee.

The Girls' Bugle and Drum Corps, under the direction of Mr. Grady, had another fine year of music and marching. Through practice, the girls had a great deal of enjoyment, as well as music experience. Although there are many seniors leaving the group, there are still enough juniors and sophomores to carry the organization until it takes in new members next year.

Art Club

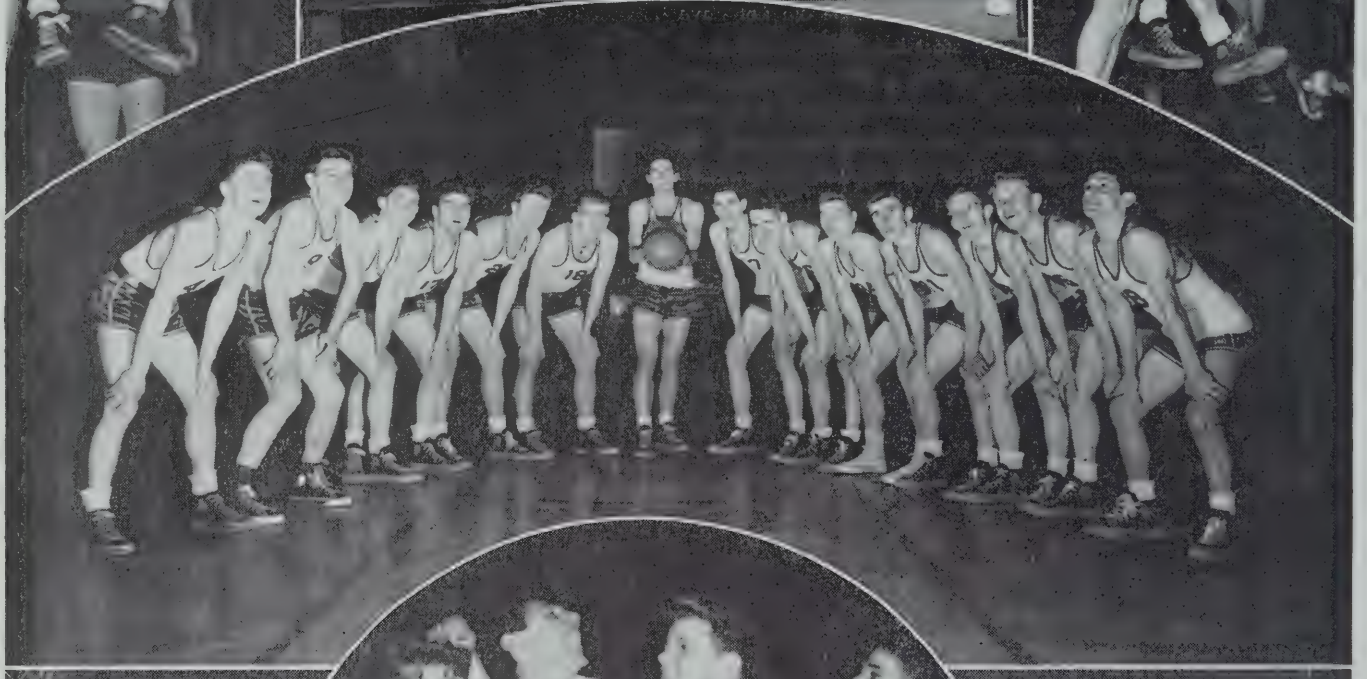

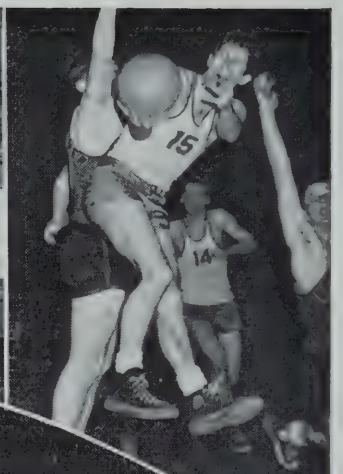

One of our newest clubs is the Art Club, organized in 1947. Under the direction of Miss Hazel Smith and Miss Mary O'Keefe, it met every Wednesday in the Art Room and worked on many art projects; the biggest ones, the Junior and Senior Proms. The aim of the club is to have its members working with one another in harmony and to create a better understanding of art. The main activities of the clubs were trips to art museums and exhibits, sketching excursions, and a Valentine Dance at the Hotel Woodbridge.

Officers of the 1949 season were Irene Torode, president; Gunnar Moore, vice-president; Nancy Larrabee, secretary; Fred Shea, treasurer; Prudence DiCiaccio, Student Council representative.

SPORTS

SOMERVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

Ever since Coach Vin Cronin has taken over the basketball reins at S. H. S., he has repeatedly attempted to capture the New England Crown. This year, he did not have on hand a group of individual stars but rather a group of players who proved to comprise the greatest clutch team since the tourney's founding. All the superlatives in the dictionary could not describe the Tourney games or the players themselves, nor can too much credit be given to Captain Leo Cronin who instilled the qualities of leadership and sportsmanship in his teammates.

The "Cinderella" team had a season record of thirteen wins and four losses. They then had a seven game win streak starting with Everett and ending with New Britain.

 2—Coach Al Austin, Glover, Balis, Cook, Lanigan, Mavropoulos, Joyce, Green, Sullivan, Noonan, McIlvaine, Gopoian, Coach Zammarchi.
 3—Erickson, Yerxa, Osborne, Giroux, Pearson, Biederman, Wolf, Gilliland, Kelly, Tarantino, Caramanis, Boudreau, McInnis, DeBiase, Ciccone.

Football

The team, boasting a record of 8 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie, displayed excessive spirit in every game; and many of the players covered themselves with glory in an All-Star post season contest. Their new Coach, Frank Zammarchi, was undoubtedly the greatest influence on the team's success. The squad was led by co-captains Joe O'Callaghan and Normie Mack, and the terror of the turf, Sam Pino.

1—Pat Winn, Lois Harkins, Janet Russell.
 2—Doria Fondacaro, Audrey Amerault, Elizabeth Brown, Joan Moore, Ann Carr, Jane Symonds.
 3—Constance McGrath, Mary Cavan.

Cheerleaders

The Cheerleaders, always cheering the teams to victory, won a trophy for themselves as they placed second in the Cheerleader Tournament at Spencer, Mass. Upholding their standards of neatness, originality, and precision in their performances, they had new uniforms made and originated many of the cheers. The sponsor this year was Miss Fitzgerald. Co-captains were Constance McGrath and Mary Cavan, and graduating in the first line were Nancy Carr, Joan Moore, and Janet Russell.

CHEERS!

RUB A DUB! RUB A DUB!
We got (Opponent) in the tub!
Wash 'em out! Ring 'em out!
Hang 'em on the line!
We can beat (Opponent)
Any old time!

End! Center Tackle! Guard!
Come on Somerville,
Hit 'em hard!
Grab that Ball!
Run right through!
Somerville High School
We mean you!

The BEST OF MEN are on our Team!
They are strictly on the beam!
They've got the pep
They've got the vim!
They've got the stuff it takes to win!
Can they pass? You bet!
Kick and Block? Best yet!
Come on Somerville! We're all set!

Touchdown! Touchdown!
Touchdown Boys!
You make the touchdown
We'll make the noise!

Come on Boys!
Run right through!
We want a victory
For the red and blue!

We've got the Backs!
We've got the Lines,
We've got the team,
The plays are fine,
We hit 'em high!
We hit 'em low!
We've got the Spirit!
So let's go!

SHS, rah, rah!
SHS, rah, rah!
Hoo-rah! Hoo-rah!
Somerville, Somerville, rah! rah! rah!
Team, team, team!

You can keep your BOOGIE WOOGIE,
You can keep your Suzy Q,
'Cause you're gonna need 'em,
When we get through with you.
With a down-beat!
And an up-beat!
With a beaty, beaty, beaty, beat.

Hockey

The hockey team not only solved the past year's famine of wins but came very close to carrying away top honors in the Eastern Mass. League. By terrific team playing, the Red 'n' Blue sextet received a berth in the playoffs where they won the first game and then scrambled up the standings by tying the second but lost the third.

The starting seniors were Red Daley, the impressive net-minder, Co-captain Paul Lanigan, the high scoring forward, and Co-captain Bill Tevlin, a stalwart defenseman. Coach Lanigan has a brighter outlook for next year since he has Bob Hickey, Fred Talbot, Edward McIlvaine, Paul Sweeney, and Bill Gay all returning.

H O N O R A N D P R O G R E S S

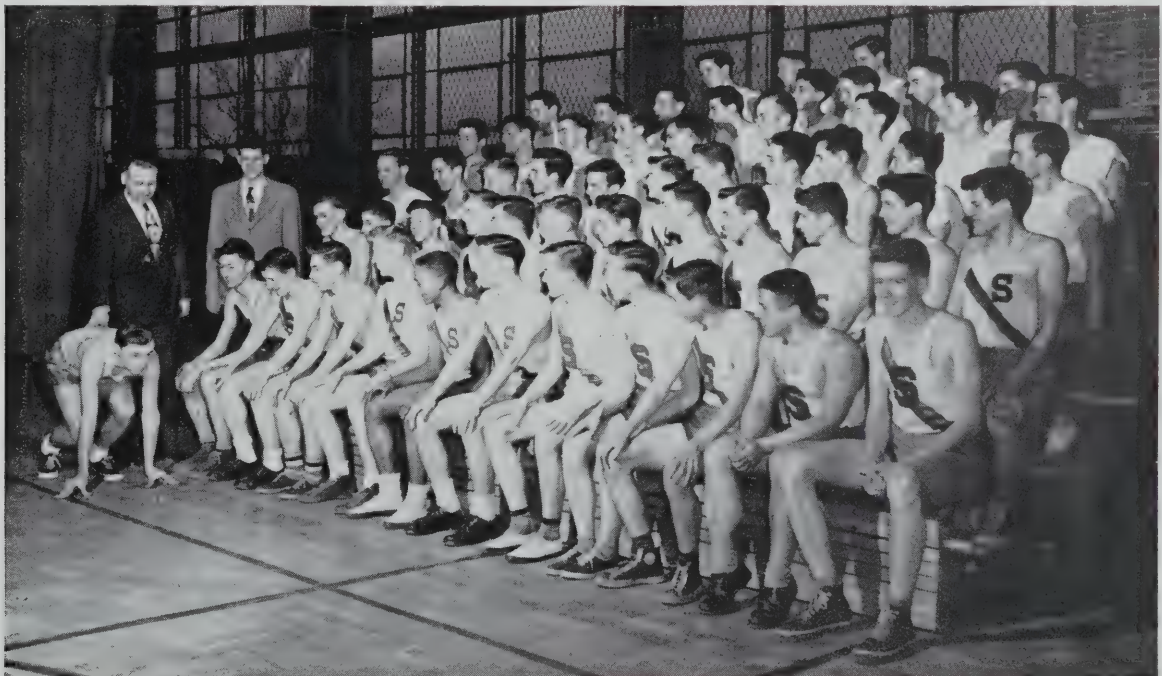

This seems to be the year for novice coaches at Somerville High and they are all turning out winning teams. Coach Fitzpatrick, the track team's new leader is no exception. Not content with a superior season record, the boys went on to win the Senior Division of the Greater Boston Track Meet, an honor which hasn't blessed S. H. S. for a long time.

Captain Peter Ghiloni led the speedsters in his specialty the 1,000 run. He, along with Frank Montesano, the record breaking miler; Lou Pacini, the sprinter; Charlie Winters, the 300 yard runner; Charlie Roden, the high jumper; shotputters Sam Pino and Don Frazer, will be the varsity's graduates. However, Coach Fitzpatrick has a host of talented juniors and sophomores who he hopes will not only continue the pace set by the forty-niners but will run even faster.

Baseball

America's favorite pastime happens to be the class of '49's last contribution to the already famous list of sports teams. The baseball team coached by James Curtin, is confident of their usual successful season, and the '49 representatives can be relied upon to do their best. The boys carrying our purple and white colors are Red Daly, Bill Tevlin, Bill Fasciano, Al Ricci, John Sussenberger, Earl Whitman, and Dick Wolf.

The umpire's shout of "play ball" signifies the start of baseball but it also means the class of '49 has in the baseball team a perfect clincher to their sports years.

H O N O R A N D P R O G R E S S

Participating in basketball, softball, tennis, bowling, swimming and riding, the Girls' Athletic Association enjoyed another happy season of activity in a variety of sports. In the fall their annual dance brought in money for their many worthwhile activities. Much credit for a successful season goes to the advisers Miss Snell and Miss Lyons, and to President Marilyn Bellini, Vice President Jean Dionne, Secretary Winifred Crowley, Treasurer Betty Wilson, and Student Council Representative Louise Donnaruma.
